

Sex party rules

why have a sex party?

- Because we want to meet on different levels with respect and without fear
- because sexuality is queerfestival.org about communication and we want to communicate
- because the body shouldn't be an object of shame or idealisation
- because lust and intimacy exist outside the bedroom
- for sex in public spaces'
- masturbation, voyeurism, non-monogamous ways of life, BDSM...
- because we want to have sex or want sex

we want to create a safe space where everyone feels secure, that's why we want to create a respectful atmosphere for this party.

If you have a general disagreement with this sex party then please do not participate. As with any DIY event, this event is being formed by the people that participate.

Here are some of the expectations we have in common:

- be considerate, respectful and friendly
- transform yourself, dress up take risks and enjoy them
- try to challenge yourself
- be wonderful, learn, have fun
- people's genders identity and sexuality have many different kinds don't expect to find the genitals you thought, don't be prejudiced
- just watching is ok, (give people space to enjoy themselves and each other), and to tell people not to watch is also ok
- ask people around you for information or help if you need it
- let's all help each other some of us are taking shifts where we will be available with help and try to solve problems these people will be wearing a red sash.

- One exciting thing about sex parties is asking questions and talking about what you want to do
- be aware of yourself, be aware for others
- to be aware means listening and communicating clearly

no means no

yes means yes

if someone asks what are you doing? It is a question that you need to answer

please leave me alone, means leave them alone and dont be in the space around them any heavy SM, especially blood or water sports has to happen in the BDSM space

Be aware that not everyone is comfortable being around SM play.

you're welcome to leave the place at anytime, you are welcome to come back again get a stamp from the door person before you go be respectful toward people who are not a part of the sex party and who might not wish to be confronted with the sex party

please think about having safe sex take care about sexually transmitted diseases you have and please dont get any at the queerfest sex is about enjoying each other and yourself, not about competition.

No bragging afterwards.

Keep what happens confidential and respect people's privacy outside the party

there will be a women and trans space, an SM room, a male and trans room, and a mixed space, cuddle space and dance floor

Please respect the spaces (gender according to own definition) use drugs and alcohol respectfully to yourself and those around you, think about other ways that you can be courageous and feel good about yourself the party room is pretty dusty and dirty. There is a place where you can wash your hands. There's a fire escape in the back, and a fire extinguisher by the entrance.

No smoking inside cleanup after yourself, keep the place clean, clean up any sticky mess!

Condoms and gloves need to go in the trash cans and needles in special needle containers.

Remember that you are responsible for yourself and others, that includes diseases, emotional traumas, stress, new relationships, old relations, boredom, lack of sleep, muscle cramps and other (possible) unwanted consequences about participating or not participating in this party take good care of yourself!!!!
